ABOUT BOISDALE

Boisdale, the brainchild of Ranald Macdonald first sprang to life in November 1988 as a bijou bar and restaurant in London's fashionable Belgravia. Over years it has grown in size and reputation to become the embassy of Highland hospitality south of the border.

Boisdale was named after a remote port in the Outer Hebrides, which for centuries was the home of the Macdonalds of Clanranald, an ancient and noble Scottish clan, of which Ranald's father is The Captain – the clan chief.

There are two London establishments open to the general public – Belgravia and Bishopsgate – with a variety of bars, restaurants and dining rooms which feature live jazz every evening. Boisdale is also home to The Boisdale Jazz & Cigar Club which offers a wide range of events and benefits to its ever-growing coterie of members.

In 2004 Boisdale acquired The Lamb at Hindon, a 17th century coaching inn, steeped in history and resting in the rolling hills of Wiltshire. The Lamb has 14 bedrooms, a restaurant, bar and meeting rooms and is open all the year round.

BOISDALE OF BELGRAVIA

Boisdale of Belgravia is situated in an elegant Regency town house, just north of Buckingham Palace Road and a short stroll from Victoria. Its bars, restaurants and private dining room are open on weekdays and Saturday evenings and offer a selection of menus to suit every budget. Most of Boisdale of Belgravia's facilities are available at any time for private functions and on Saturday afternoons and Sundays it is possible to take over the whole establishment for celebrations, luncheons, dinners, weddings and drinks parties. Everything from live music and flowers to speakers and entertainers can be arranged.

THE MACDONALD BAR

The most eclectic of Boisdale rooms, the Macdonald Bar is decorated in the style of a gentleman's club but with the ambience of a classic '40s jazz bar and restaurant. It features a cocktail bar, formal restaurant and live jazz each evening.

The Macdonald bar is not generally available for private functions during the week but on Saturday afternoons and Sundays it is available for up to 60 guests to dine or, in conjunction with the Courtyard Garden, up to 100 guests for a drinks reception.

Each evening Richard Pite's Boisdale Blue Rhythm Band performs live jazz here from Monday to Saturday.

THE COURTYARD GARDEN

The Courtyard Garden is planted with scented blooms all year round and offers a perfect location for alfresco dining in the summer and, being centrally heated, for candlelit dinners in winter. It is available for private lunch and dinner parties and can accommodate up to of 14 guests on one table or 20 guests on two tables. The Courtyard Garden provides a degree of privacy without being completely cut off from the atmosphere of the main restaurant and bar. It is also suitable for drinks parties when hired in conjunction with the Back Bar.

THE BACK BAR

Beside the Courtyard Garden is The Back Bar. In the style of a traditional pub bar it offers both lighter bar food and a full a la carte menu. The Back Bar is suitable for private lunch or dinner parties for up to 26 guests, which can be accommodated on one table, or 40 for drinks parties (more if taken with The Courtyard Garden). It is available for private functions during the week and at weekends.

THE AULD RESTAURANT

The Restaurant is the oldest part of Boisdale of Belgravia. It is an elegant and spacious dining room providing a quieter, more sedate atmosphere than The Macdonald Bar. For private parties, the tables can be arranged to host up to 15 guests dining on one table or 34 on separate tables whilst the room lends itself to drinks receptions for up to 60 people.

THE JACOBITE ROOM

Above The Auld Restaurant is The Jacobite Room. This private dining room is wood panelled, and hung with oil paintings, ornate mirrors and chandeliers. It is an elegant space in which to dine and entertain. The Jacobite Room seats up to 16 guests on one square table or 22 on two long tables, and is available for private functions at all times.

BOISDALE OF BISHOSPGATE

Boisdale of Bishopsgate is situated in the heart of the City, just opposite Broadgate and Liverpool Street Station.

The ground floor is home to a traditional Oyster & Champagne Bar which provides an excellent watering hole for the local business community, whilst the downstairs McGonagall Room, Restaurant and Cocktail Bar offer a more intimate space for relaxing, entertaining or formal dining. THE RESTAURANT

The Boisdale of Bishopsgate Restaurant is set on the lower floor and offers table and banquette seating for formal dining at lunch and dinner for up to 72 guests. It is decorated in the warm Boisdale livery of dark reds and greens with a subtle hint of tartan.

THE MCGONAGALL ROOM

The McGonagall Room, beside The Restaurant, can accommodate up to 42 guests for private dinner parties during the week, and at weekends. It is available on its own, with the Restaurant, or either of the bars for larger parties. Combined, The McGonagall Room, The Restaurant and Piano Bar can accommodate up to 110 guests.

PIANO BAR

The Piano Bar is a relaxing bar with banquette and table seating offering traditional cocktails, wines, spirits and beers and any of Bishopsgate's menus. Every evening the bar features live traditional jazz from the cocktail era of the '30s and '40s. In conjunction with The Restaurant, it is the ideal venue for pre-dinner drinks or dancing after dinner. It is available for private functions for up to 60 guests during the week and at weekends.

CHAMPAGNE & OYSTER BAR

The Champagne & Oyster Bar features a classic City marble-topped oyster bar and tables for less formal dining. At weekends it is available for private functions of up to 80 guests, or more if combined with the lower floor space. For canapé parties an extensive selection of snacks and light meals and full waiting service can be provided.

THE LAMB AT HINDON

The centre of village life, The Lamb has retained its period character and features whilst offering the standards of dining and accommodation to satisfy the needs of today's traveller.
